462.	Preparing for Policy Writing.
	<ul> <li>A. Policy Writing.     SBF delivered a tutorial power-point presentation on the topic to explain the nature, requirements and do's and don'ts of policy writing – the next step in the SNP process. The following matters arose in discussion.</li> <li>1. The Planning Inspector will check the wording carefully. Phrasing needs to be technical but also understandable by the general public.</li> <li>2. What lessons should be learnt from the St. Ives High Court case? Be careful not to do include matters that are "ultra vires" (beyond powers). Provide justification for policies with clear and concise evidence in a well written manner with measurable criteria to enable progress against plan to be tracked.</li> <li>3. Projects aligned to the delivery of the plan (e.g. The Railway Station) should be included with clear criteria and guidelines. SBF had prepared a draft on the Railway Station and Waterfront by way of example.</li> <li>4. Benefits that will accrue to the Parish resulting from policies and projects need to be spelt out.</li> <li>5. Show how policies serve the principal objectives.</li> <li>6. Identify priorities for investment spend. N.B 25% of Community Infrastructure Levy monies derived form local planning approvals can be retained in the parish probably through the Town Council and/or Community Interest Company (CIC).</li> <li>7. What defines "Character?" Design and Access Statements are important here.</li> <li>8. Consider land transfer into a Community Property Trust (CPT) for Affordable Housing and not merely cash on larger developments.</li> </ul>

9. Use photographs, graphics etc to add interest to the Plan. Consider employing graphic designers to produce the document.  10. SBP recommended the following reading "Writing Planning Policies" by Tony Burton, published by Locality 'How to write planning policies - putting the pieces together' from Planning Aid England 'Neighbourhood Planning. Writing policies' Cornwall Council.  11. The 5-year land supply for housing is an issue for the SNP. It needs to show how dwellings will be completed on the ground by 2030. This should the in with the Cornwall Local Plan Housing Implementation Strategy October 2016.  12. Slippage in the Broadmoor Farm development might necessitate more land being brought forward for development over the plan period.  13. Past experience had proved that there needed to be a single "Editor in Chief" to moderate contributions from policy writing contributors.  14. Liskeard had adopted the following approach.  2 Establish Policy Writing Group to produce the Draft Plan;  3 Draft Plan signed off by Steering Group;  4 Town Council to note and comment as The Plan is produced by the Council;  4 Pass to Conwall Council for comment:  4 Pass to graphic designer  15.
