

Contacting the Police: Devon & Cornwall

Overview:

Devon & Cornwall Police see a considerable increase in demand on the contact centre during the summer months.

The summer contact campaign aims to encourage members of the public to use our online contact methods – WebChat, Report Crime Online and Email 101 to report non-emergency queries and incidents to help reduce this demand.

We also want to promote AskNED – our non-emergency directory which has the answers to the most commonly asked questions and provides details of which agency can help.

This summer, we are expecting more people to visit Devon and Cornwall and this may increase demand on the police’s contact centres. So if you have need to contact the police why not ClickB4UCall.

Devon & Cornwall Police offer a range of online services which can be used to report any non-emergency crimes and incidents including Report Crime Online, WebChat and Email 101.

If you have a question and not sure who can help then AskNED – the non-emergency directory.

dc.police.uk/ClickB4UCall

Did you know you don't always have to call the police?

There are many other ways to contact the police to report non-emergency crimes and incidents including Report Crime Online, WebChat and Email 101.

So why call when you don't have to?

dc.police.uk/ClickB4UCall
