Subject: Saltash s106 panel update

Dear all

There is a slight change to the approach we need to take with regard to the two projects that have been discussed at the last Saltash s106 panel.

After further work it transpires that the Waitrose s106 budget is fully utilised so I have been in liaison with the CC infrastructure team, which deals with s106 allocations, and the following is the new way forward:

The position now is that the publicity project, that was approved by the Saltash s106 panel on 26th April, can progress utilising the Quora s106 allocation, which has been transferred from the developer. So that can proceed as planned.

The re-launch of the Saltash card can proceed with an assessment of the application and if supported that will be funded via the Quora s106 allocation. To fulfil the requirements of the Quora s106 fund, the application will have to be considered by Saltash town council in the first instance. After liaising with Ray, the first date for this will be 6th June. So a final decision based on the assessment, which is to be undertaken by email as circulated yesterday, will follow that.

With kind regards
Catherine
