

Information from the Chief Parking Officer Cornwall Council.

The current decision re car parks is that they will remain free until there is a change to the lockdown restrictions. The latest announcement re the lockdown has not been definitive for all and a decision whether to put charging back in place will need to be made at a very Senior level. The decision making process is likely to take place in the next two weeks. In the meantime information about charging is being placed on our Covid19 parking page on the following link <https://www.cornwall.gov.uk/health-and-social-care/public-health-cornwall/information-about-coronavirus-covid-19/parking/> and when the public do need to start paying again, it will clearly be stated as such on there.
