

SALTASH STATION – SUBJECT OF UKTV SERIES

Last year, Tim Dunn, Travel Editor, met with Councillor Richard Bickford at Saltash Station to film the UKTV series The Architecture The Railways Built.

Tim thought people in Saltash might like to see that the project is celebrated very widely. This series has been getting 500k+ viewers per episode, so word is spreading.

This episode is online, so anyone in the UK can watch it via the link below:

This page has been put together by Tim so that there's a lasting record of how interesting it all was to have everyone contribute.
