Press Release

Saltash bus shelters to be transformed to living roofs!

Saltash Town Council are pleased to announce that 14 bus shelters in the town will be transformed into living roofs over the next two years at no cost to the Town Council. In addition over the next two-three years the bus shelters will be replaced and upgraded to digital signage displays. One bus shelter in Fairmead has already been upgraded to a living roof during its refurbishment.

The Town Council subcontracts the bus shelters to Fernbank Advertising who will be undertaking the improvement works. The shelters comprise of 450mm x 450mm trays of 16 varieties of sedum plants, which equates to approximately 27 trays for a three bay bus shelter. The sedum plants are living flowers that grow to a maximum height of 10cm high and flower between March and October. The living roofs are great pollinators and carbon capturers whilst helping to dissipate water retention on the roofs.
